History of the College

Although Truett-McConnell College is a comparatively young institution, its roots extend far back into the educational history of Georgia. George W. Truett and Fernando C. McConnell, cousins for whom the college is named, were men of faith and vision whose work and influence as joint pioneers in Christian education became well known.

In 1887, George W. Truett established a private Christian academy at Hiawassee, Georgia, where Fernando C. McConnell joined him in his educational endeavors, which led to the creation of the public school system in Towns County, Georgia. Changing conditions eventually led to the closing of the original academy, but Georgia Baptists established a college in Cleveland, Georgia, to carry on the same high educational standards instituted by these two Baptist pioneers.

On July 23, 1946, ceremonies at Cleveland, Georgia, heralded the establishment of the new college. Truett-McConnell College, operating in temporary quarters, first opened its doors to students in September 1947, when it enrolled a class of fifty-five. Before long, construction began on the present campus, and the first building became available for use in September 1956. Since that time, the campus has seen much construction and landscaping.

Truett-McConnell College is organized under the auspices of the Baptist Convention of the State of Georgia. The College is controlled by a Board of Trustees chosen by the Convention.

Mission Statement

The mission of Truett-McConnell College is to equip students to fulfill the Great Commission by fostering a Christian worldview through a biblically-centered education.
